

Dear Governor Granholm:

I still believe in rehabilitation and I firmly believe that Josh Puckett has paid his debt to society and is rehabilitated. He is not a danger to the community. Indeed, he would be an asset to the community.

Josh is truly remorseful, even though he did not pull the trigger and was not in the car from which the shot was fired. Given the facts of his case, his compassion for the victim's family, and his insight into his emotional development, I believe he has served more than enough time for his past actions.

I hope you will give his commutation request serious consideration, free him, and give him the opportunity to teach other young men how to avoid gang life and how to deal with their anger and grief by channeling it in more positive ways.

His has overcome much adversity, yet seems to have a heart full of love and hope. His story is inspiring and he has much to give.

Please give him another chance at a productive life.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ann Warner
